... OUR 60-20TH EDITION ...

. . . our annual yearbook, commemorating the founding of Florida Southern College, and the twentieth year of our president.

. . . our book, which seeks to review the past, record the present, imply the future.

. . . our idea, to present a personal volume for ourselves and for our college.

. . . our aim, like that of our college, to continue to function in wartime in such a way that our efforts will not be shattered, nor our achievements lessened.

. . . FROM ACROSS THE LAKE . . .

. . . SEEING THE OLD THROUGH THE NEW . . .

THE OLD AND YET THE NEW . . .

. . . the very spirit of our campus, the emerging, newer, Frank Lloyd Wright buildings, and yet, the older, more traditional part, such as our Joseph-Reynolds hall.

. . . the very essence of our college, instructed scribes, like householders, bringing forth from their treasures things new and old.

. . . the very hope for our future, recognition that this omniscient spirit keeps the old with the new also.

...WITH OUR PRESIDENT ...

. . . Ludd M. Spivey, whom we especially think of in this twentieth year of his administration.

. . . who came to us in 1925, from Birmingham-Southern College in Alabama, where he had been dean, and where he was considered a pioneering, brilliant teacher.

. . . an intensely progressive personality.

. . . a man who came to the college when it needed a strong hand to pull it out of the bogs of indebtedness, and who has constantly been able to do just that.

. . . whose plans for greater expansion have been the moving factor in our college of today.

LUDD M. SPIVEY
Associate Professor of Sociology
A.B., M.A., B.D., LL.D., ED.D.

...WHOM WE HONOR...

. . . not only as our president for twenty years, but as the very soul and spirit of Florida Southern.

. . . because we find in him the old and yet the new, as we see his dream emerging around us.

. . . because he is our energetic and dynamic leader, possessing a penetrating, powerful mind, and an out-reaching, influential personality.

. . . because he is a man who has served the educational and cultural world, making not only a place for himself thereby, but more, for our college.

. . . (leaving out this year his usual message which has been printed within the Interlachen pages for the past nineteen years because we sincerely wished to honor him without any foreknowledge on his part.)

. . . informally pictured as he appears around campus.

. . . with those characteristic glasses, hand in pocket.

OUR COLLEGE OF YESTERDAY...

. . . which had its beginning even before 1885, official year designated for the actual founding of Florida Southern College, then called the Florida Conference College.

. . . a college with a stormy history, seeking to endure all ills, as most colleges and universities must have had to fight for existence.

. . . surviving as we know it today, despite FAMINE, "FREEZE", FIRE, FLOOD, and several FURIES, and even through Finance, so that today we have a college with a Future.

. . . promising in the very nature of her history to be a college capable of withstanding anything, and thus, continuing in these war years.

despite FAMINE

. . . surviving, when founded at Micanopy, Florida, near Gainesville, through the efforts of the Florida Methodist Conference, 1861, when the entire state suffered a virtual famine.

. . . prospering for about ten years after this agricultural failure, the first institution of higher learning in the state, offering in its curriculum, Hebrew, Greek, Latin, philosophy, higher mathematics, history, science, and religion.

. . . closing only when the Civil War descended upon the whole nation.

despite “FREEZE”

. . . surviving, to prosper again despite temporary closure at Leesburg because of the effects of several state-wide frosts, major tragedy in Florida history during the 1890's.

. . . having been reopened before that, in Leesburg, because trouble in Orlando slowed up plans to continue the college there, after the Civil War.

. . . fostering seriously the highest principles, as envisioned in school rules: that a young man abstain from contracting debts at local stores, and livery stables; that students abstain from communication with the opposite sex, except that which comes unsought in college contacts!

despite FIRE

... surviving, still, after the college had been invited to settle at Palm Harbor, formerly Southerland, on the gulf, near Clearwater.

... closing only for two weeks, after the administration building and women's dormitory had been destroyed, 1921.

... continuing to exist on a firm spiritual foundation under the presidency of S. W. Walker, who is now a trustee of our college.

despite FLOOD

. . . surviving a hurricane force, raising flood waters at Clear-water beach, where the college had been invited to stay by Mr. E. T. Roux, who has shown again his interest in our college by donating our new library.

. . . evacuating the whole beach when some of our present faculty remember the mad rush to get onto the mainland with narrow escapes for many.

. . . convincing college officials and friends that a new site for the institution must be found.

despite FURY

. . . surviving through more than one furious wind, but especially this year, when our campus was hit by a gale sweeping most of Florida.

. . . continuing as if nothing had happened, although we lost many trees, one which was our traditional meeting spot between Allen Spivey and Edge, although our chapel was damaged, and our orange crop wasted.

. . . facing each, FAMINE, "FREEZE", FIRE, FLOOD, and FURY, and even one other, Finance, but looking always into the Future, with hope.

...AND OUR COLLEGE OF TODAY AND TOMORROW...

. . . which has for over sixty years physically changed so that today it is vastly different, and yet has some of the old, some of the new.

. . . a campus, reaching from the lake, stretching up and over the hill to the bordering roads, lying in an orange grove.

. . . in every corner, different views, different moods, a campus even larger than the boundaries that mark it.

. . . our very own college campus, exotic, colorful, unique.

and RECENTLY DEDICATED

. . . presented to us during Founders' Week by Mr. E. T. Roux of Winter Haven, long friend of our college.

. . . consecrated on Saturday, March 17, in an impressive ceremony presided over by Bishop Arthur J. Moore of Atlanta, Georgia.

. . . the second major building in our Frank Lloyd Wright designed project which is forming our newer campus, the E. Stanley Jones Foundation.

OUR NEW E. T. ROUX LIBRARY

. . . built under the guidance of Mr. Robert Wehr, construction engineer, by students and workers.

. . . the scene of many a work day in the past three years, when the whole student body went out to help regular workers, first, in pouring cement, and later, in putting finishing touches on the building, and cleaning it up for this Founders' Week.

. . . our new library, into which the books we now have are being moved, where we hope an even larger collection of every type of book can be collected, through donations from alumni, and friends of the college.

. . . where we, who are underclassmen, will study next year, an experience we the seniors could not enjoy.

. . . second building in tomorrow's campus.

Mr. E. T. Roux

Our FACULTY...

... we look back over sixty years of college life and realize in retrospect that it would stand for nothing, if our faculty had not been with us, working with and for us, all of us who ever came to Florida Southern, making our college efforts purposeful.

... this year, we see our faculty anew ... those who have worked with us in our classes, outside of our classes, all who have had a part in guiding our lives ... who especially are part of our college life today ... to whom we personally look for the guidance they can give ... to whom especially we the seniors say thank you.

JAMES CLAUDIUS PEEL
A.B., M.A., Ph.D.

Dean and Professor of Education

DEAN PEEL ... formerly a professor of our college, who left us to be principal of Fort Lauderdale high school, but who came back to us this year ... to be the energetic dean we all know ... striding around campus with his rapid walk ... speaking in his humorous drawl ... a youthful man with enthusiasms ... our Dean.

OUR FACULTY . . . she who has been with us a long time, MISS Bainter, of the college art department, with her favorite cats, a strong personality, with her indomitable spirit . . . MR. BARNETT, of the English department, perhaps best known to upper-classmen who admire his extensive vocabulary and learning, member of the well-known college Barnett family . . . DR. BLY, first friend of freshmen, if they will only study hard at their chemistry, known by all because of his interest in student life, that special humor, and those fishing stories ! ! ! the BARNUMS, mostly seen around the music school, renowned musical team, he with his violin, she at the piano, appearing in many musical programs, friends of students . . . MR. BERRY, new member of the science department, with a lively interest in student and faculty activities, friendly grin, forcible personality, seen about campus with his camera . . . all a vital part of our college faculty.

THERE IS . . . a certain member of the social science department valued highly by students all, DR. COE, evoking student regard, with a nice sense of humor, penetrating mind, friendly, wry smile . . . DR. CASE, making the religion department he heads interesting for us, with his many stories and speeches, caustic humor, and his critical mind, whom we miss greatly since he left this spring because of illness . . . and our DR. DEMELT, registrar, professor, with a cordial word for all, winner of the affectionate respect of all who know him . . . MISS BRABSON, best known to home economic students, efficient teacher whose influential hand is seen in feminine works students achieve . . . the band's new MR. CATALDO, working hard to build up that student group, he whom we hear almost daily at band practice . . . MISS DUNN, known mainly to those who visit the music school, specializing in teaching piano to young children of Lakeland under the auspices of the college . . . each one definitely a part of our faculty.

and FOUNDERS'

... in which we were able to envision a future for Florida Southern:
 Monday, March 12, when our annual week of convocation officially began ... with a Memorial service for fellow students who have died in the service of our country ... when magnolia trees were planted for each one ... when Dr. Ernest C. Colwell addressed the college and assembled guests; Tuesday, when recognition of Honor Walk, and crowning of Miss Southern took place ... when the School of Music presented an evening in concert
 ... when students saw the men's varsity basketball team perform;

Wednesday, when senior investiture took place, and Dr. Robert MacGowan addressed the group ... when the Faculty Women's Club held a meeting at which President Spivey was the speaker, followed by a tea ... when Miss Gail Potter presented costumed monodramas of Bible women;

WEEK

Thursday, when an informal assembly was enlivened by impromptu tales of the college's past by those present "who knew her when" . . . a tea was held honoring Lakeland citizens, and visitors . . . when, in the traditional candle-light service, sixty alumni and friends of the college were cited;

Friday, when Gov. Millard F. Caldwell of Florida spoke . . . when we all went to the annual Chancellor's luncheon . . . when the impressive Convocation was held, Mr. Vilhjalmur Stefansson as speaker . . . when honorary degrees were given . . . when our student, faculty, trustee reception was held for Dr. Spivey . . . when we gave him the engraved watch, and Mrs. Spivey, the roses . . . when our historic pageant of the college was dramatized;

Saturday, when our new E. T. Roux library was presented by Mr. Roux himself, and dedicated by Bishop Arthur J. Moore . . . when over two hundred colleges and universities sent congratulations . . . when presidents of other institutions spoke to us . . . when the alumni luncheon and meeting was held;

Sunday, when Bishop Arthur J. Moore spoke at College Heights Methodist Church, closing another annual Founders' Week, made especially significant this year by our double anniversary celebration.

JUDY BRYANT - - - - - President
NEVA MORQUS - - - - - Vice President
MOLLIE KELLY - - - - - Secretary-Treasurer
MARDELLE EISENBACH - - - - - Senator

. . . find ourselves in this anniversary year not very different from all other senior classes, except that we have had a unique four-year experience.

. . . look back to see we began our college life in the fall of 1941, saw war declared, fellow students leaving every day, sadly experienced a week of death at the passing of a fellow student and of our great President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, saw the war in Europe ended, and approach this year of greater hope.

. . . know that we have seen our college changing, the new emerging out of the old, and that we have tried to preserve the best of what we knew of the old.

. . . and now go out to meet larger horizons, leaving to underclassmen that spirit which is ours all together, which is truly the flowering fruit of our college.

IN
OUR ANNIVERSARY

... EMBODYING ALL WALKS OF OUR CAMPUS LIFE ...

YEAR

We THE UNDERCLASSMEN . . .

. . . juniors, sophomores, freshmen, all linked together as students who must stay after our seniors have gone.

. . . all linked together in embodiment of the tradition in all walks of campus life.

. . . as this year, we found rising leadership, growing personalities and minds, among ourselves.

... JUNIORS...

. . . in the very zenith of college life.
. . . who must follow in the steps of the seniors, and assume greater leadership.
. . . who have seen our numbers dwindled by war and its effects, but who yet have time to reach greater magnitude in mind and spirit.

IN OUR ANNIVERSARY

... LIKE THE MANY BRANCHES OF OUR MEDITATION TREE ...

YEAR

OUR ORGANIZATIONS...

. . . student administrative organizations, governing us in cooperation with our college president.

. . . established honorary organizations, to which students are accepted as members after meeting various set requirements.

. . . working activity groups, which any student can join who will strive hard to maintain the group's high achievement level, the everyday groups which get things done.

. . . social organizations, our sororities, fraternities, and the Independents, which serve as smaller working units within the college, through which students may express themselves.

. . . branching out of our over-all college life, making up part of our total college experience.

ADMINISTRATIVE...

... composed of representatives from fraternities, sororities, Independents, and the classes . . . making minor decrees . . . running elections . . . working especially during Founders' Week, cooperating with the newer President's Council, made up of presidents of all groups, and Dr. Spivey . . . favorite project, "what shall we do about line breaking?"

... LIKE THE ORCHID, MANY TYPES, ALL BEAUTIFUL ...

YEAR

OUR OUTSTANDING STUDENTS...

. . . Honor Walker, Miss Southern, Valedictorian, Salutatorian, Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities, all traditional selections.

. . . our Beauties, according to the views of a selected staff committee, sanctioned, then photographed, by MR. DICK POPE, famous for his stills and moving pictures, all taken at nationally known Cypress Gardens, in Winter Haven, Florida.

. . . and others, chosen by a staff committee and the editor, discussed by selected faculty.

...HONOR WALKER...

. . . selected by the faculty to join those names which have been inscribed on the Walk of Honor since dedication in 1931.

. . . conceived by Dr. Spivey to do honor to one outstanding student from each graduating class, a selection considered the greatest honor a student can receive.

. . . supplemented by the names of selected members of preceding classes, dated 1885 on the first stone.

. . . TIA TOWNSEND, first woman to make Honor Walk in many years . . .

. . . having "the qualities which will make her successful in future life."

—The Southern

...Miss Southern...

. . . Queen of Founder's Week, presiding after being crowned at the traditional week's beginning.

. . . attended by chosen representatives from each women's social group on campus and this year by Neva Morqus and Olive Chapman, Dixie Wayne Cox and Annie Rose Stephens, Carolyn Jane Hudson and Ruth Clegg, Eleanor Arden and Joyce Sachar, Mary Skipper and Jean Carey, and Daisy Jean Wyatt and Hester Boyd.

. . . voted by students because she is representative and attractive.

. . . JUDY BRYANT, enthusiastic leader, overbrimming with spirit . . .

. . . "popular . . . a typical Southern co-ed"—The Southern.

...VALEDICTORIAN AND SALUTATORIAN...

. . . top ranking student, she who wins scholastic honors as valedictorian, to stand forever at the head of her class.

. . . next student in scholastic achievement, she who becomes salutatorian for our graduating class, taking second place, before all her class.

. . . both honors won through hard work and intelligence of two members of the senior class, and this year going to two women making unusually high averages for their four years.

. . . OLIVE CHAPMAN, making almost a three-point average for her four years . . .

. . . LOUISE ROBBINS, winning the salutatory with work well done . . .

...WHO'S WHO...

... JUDY, typically collegiate . . . enthusiastic . . . leading her sorority . . . heading all-campus social committees . . . active in many phases of campus life, ever since her freshman year.

... JEAN, versatile . . . heading her sorority and several other major organizations . . . Interlachen business manager . . . ranking among the first in her class, scholastically . . . first lady of our college stage.

... OLIVE, outstanding . . . leading in YW and other campus affairs . . . friendly . . . scrupulous . . . consistent and dependable . . . first lady of the senior class.

... C. J., sincere . . . quiet and reliable . . . a worker, and follower, yet a leader too . . . sweet, thoughtful personality . . . one who unassumingly gets places.

... JOEL, idealistic . . . outstanding especially in her junior year in dramatics and the field of education . . . consistently pursuing her studies, winning a high place . . . a gentle, sensitive nature.

... T. LEE, self-possessed . . . a willing worker, but leader too . . . intelligent . . . friendly . . . a girl about whom one could never say ill.

... LOUISE, mature . . . calm . . . studious second lady of the senior class . . . a leading personality in her sorority and in campus life.

... SMITH, poised . . . an amazingly short, human bundle of energy . . . ambitious . . . active as head of her sorority, but also in campus activities.

... TIA, responsible . . . individualist, yet with a community consciousness . . . does a little of everything . . . active in campus life for her four years here.

... WOODY, modest . . . shy . . . indispensable . . . good-natured . . . a worker . . . Student Body president . . . likeable.

... ALL Members, of Who's Who . . . representing Florida Southern College in this national honorary.

Below: Carolyn Jane Hudson, Judy Bryant.

Our BEAUTIES...

... selected by a staff committee and sanctioned by DICK POPE of CYPRESS GARDENS, whose pictures appear all over the United States.

... with qualifications noted because each belongs for a special reason among Florida Southern's most attractive women.

... JEAN CAREY, representing the senior class with her classic features, rich voice, and womanly appearance.

. . . MARIA BECERRA, with an exotic beauty of face quite Latin in appearance, unusual . . .

. . . HELEN HEATH, dark coloring in striking contrast to her blue eyes, even featured . . .

. . . ASTA LOA OLAFSSON, Icelandic attractiveness, with Vogue-like arrangements of hair, outstanding in a crowd . . .

. . . DORIS DEVANE, dark, typically collegiate attractiveness, offsetting pretty eyes.

. . . HELEN COGGIN, dark, even good looks, attractive coloring, pleasing every-day appearance . . .

. . . BUBBLES MITCHELL,
nymph - like, yet boyish form, beautiful hair, unusual expression of face and feature . . .

. . . MARTHA CARSWELL, blonde prettiness, vivid coloring, lovely form ("the shape").

. . . LOUISE PARKER, strikingly attractive, dresses like a model, everyday, radiant looks, photogenic . . .

. . . three "cute coeds" . . .
THELMA McCOOK, pretty features, shapely form, lively face
. . . SHIRLEY HALPERIN, dark subtleties, irregular, attractive features . . . MARVINE AND-ERSON, soft coloring, long-lashed eyes, pert nose.

...AND OTHERS...

. . . chosen with an attempt to cover all types, all possible call for recognition, all groups.

. . . significant in themselves, but more because each represents an idea, as beautiful in its way as physical beauty.

. . . as first, the personality group, each with unassumed, personal traits which make their smiles beautiful.

. . . and "Miss Senior of the class of 1945", ideal looking in her cap and gown, a typical senior.

. . . as well as some outstanding members of each class, and some attractive men.

. . . personality personified . . . C. J. HUDSON, senior, thoughtful and sincere . . . ANNIE CAROLYN BROWN, junior, twinkling and unusual . . . BESSIE HOWELL, sophomore, friendly and likeable, always beaming . . . LOLITA PEEL, freshman, with the most beautiful smile on campus (but she just wouldn't smile this once!).

. . . A. R. STEPHENS, dignified and looking the way all seniors would like to look in their caps and gown.

. . . juniors . . . WARREN CHURCHILL, a leader, active in dramatics, versatile, returned to us recently from the army . . . JANE BUSH, small in stature, but large in possibilities, perky, typical co-ed . . . HANS MAYER, intelligent conversationalist who makes high grades, taking an interest in campus life, a foreign student . . . BUBBLES MITCHELL, active in sports and other campus activities, popular . . . RUTH GRAVES (not pictured), transfer student with ideas, slowly but surely making a place.

. . . attractive men . . . JOE McCLURE, wiry physique . . . CHARLIE VOSS, serious good looks . . . MYRL SPIVEY, fine, strong appearance . . . F. A. MOODY, intelligent, classic features . . . BILLY POU, blonde, husky, intelligent.

. . . sophomores . . . COOKIE ROLLINS, young Casanova who has stepped actively onto the campus stage . . . BOBBIE PELHAM, enthusiastic, photography minded, hither and yon . . . PAT CONROY, emerging campus potential, active in sports and in writing . . . HAZEL ROUX, outstanding athlete and leader, a singer . . . EDNA KEENE, future leader, who follows well, positive, already a writer . . . TOMMY TERRY, active in sports, a working student . . . JESSIE PARRISH, business manager of the campus paper and acting editor in her sophomore year . . . JEAN DIXON, persistent student, attractive to all who know her . . . MARTHA DUKE, likeable little lady, active and dependable . . . PRISCILLA RYAN, capable senator, unbiased, probable leader.

. . . freshmen . . . CAROL SALENTINE, outstanding freshman actress of three shows . . . GIN PIERCE, sports demon, popular, working student . . . SHIRLEY FIRESTONE, leading personality among the Jewish students on campus.

IN MEMORIAM

"Why seek ye them above,
Those that ye love dear?
The all of God is Love,
The all of God is here."

They shall always be our fellow students . . . the commemoration of their efforts is in our hands . . . and that they may live on in spirit, we shall not forget them . . . we shall not forget all of our men who have died in service of our country . . . Joe Brooks, Jim-Bob Prickett, Lloyd Kennerly, Joy Deen, Phil Wolking, George Hayman, Charnelle Larsen, Thomas Lacey Tharpe, Charles Barclay Stout, and Bill McCrae.

And Joel . . . whom we can never forget . . . a fellow student, senior, friend . . . Joel Kicklighter.

IN

. . . CENTERING AROUND OUR GYM . . .

YEAR

Our ATHLETICS...

. . . centering around our Gilbert Gymnasium, a special corner of our campus.

. . . participated in by men and women in regulated intramural programs organized through Intramural Boards.

. . . fitting into our everyday life, filling almost every afternoon throughout the year.

. . . providing not only exercise and competition for the various sorority, fraternity, and independent teams participating, but also a means by which to foster good sportsmanship, and a sense of co-operation as learned when playing with a team.

. . . through which our varsity teams have met other schools and colleges, with school spirit heightened.

...MEN'S...

... intramural sports, greatly hindered by scarcity of men, but continuing diligently to maintain the high level of former years, keeping on schedule, football, basketball, volleyball, and track.

... varsity sports, in which Southern had its own football team for the first time in many years, a top-notch.

... going undefeated in football with four wins and one tie, in two handed touch football.

... and a basketball team, giving us plenty of thrills, chills, and spills, though not enjoying the undefeated record of the football season.

... all under an intramural board functioning to make the rules and select the sports to be played.

Members, Left to right: Tommy Terry, Joe McClure, Herbert Crawley, Phil Bright.

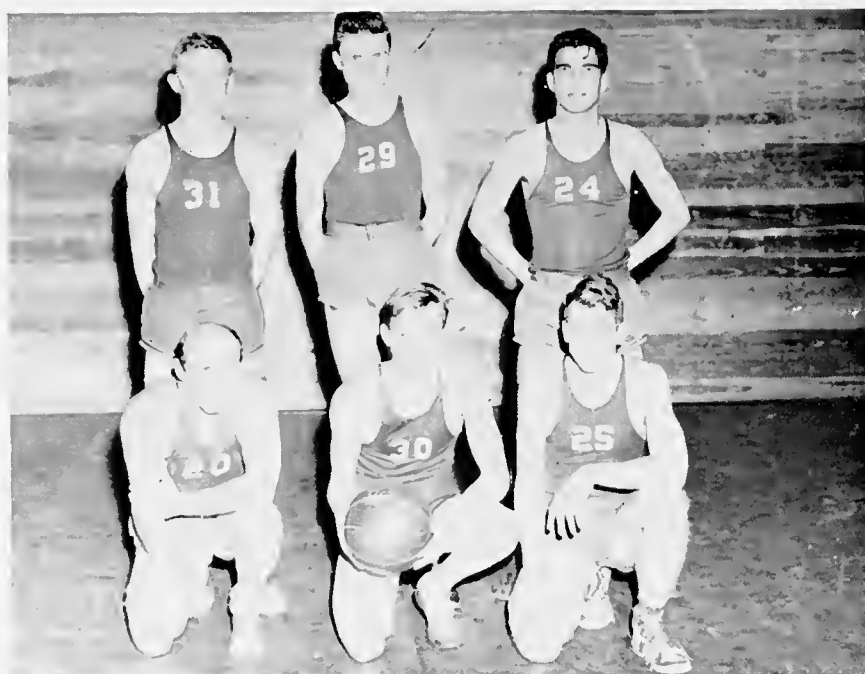

INTRAMURAL

. . . inter-fraternity sports, beginning with football, drawing to a close with a combined Kappa Theta-Chi Rho team moving out in front over Alpha Sig, to win the trophy for the Theta's, second consecutive season . . . and basketball, one-sided with Chi Rho holding the floor all season against three other teams, going undefeated to win the cup.

. . . with teams playing: ALPHA SIGMA, Woodell, McClure, Bryan, Pheil, Fouts, Pete Smith, Bridgeland, Bennett; KAPPA THETA PSI, Voss, Elmer Smith, Bright, Cauley, McKeown, Darby; CHI RHO, Terry, Rousett, Thurner, Swinnerton, Mabey, Spivey; LAMBDA CHI ALPHA, Crawley, Rollins, Allen, Childers, Roberts, Ingalls.

and VARSITY

. . . football: McClure, Terry, Rousett, Woodell, Bright, Bryan, Rollins, D. Pheil, and subs.

. . . basketball: Terry, McClure, Mabey, Spivey, Rousett, Thurner, and subs.

T E A M S

. . . playing in football, Rollins College, nearby Army Air Base teams, and St. Petersburg Junior College, going undefeated, with one tie.

. . . not as successful in basketball against Army teams, St. Petersburg, Stetson, and Mulberry C. O. camp, with more defeats than victories.

. . . both sports drawing students, in a little of the old spirit, down to the gym.

WOMEN'S...

... capturing our interest the opening week of college, and keeping us under a spell since.

... intramurals, in which participation has been large, competition keen, and games exciting.

... when looking for a girl after classes, the likeliest place was the gym, or athletic field.

... and varsity, basketball only, with softball games late in the season.

... all under the Women's Intramural Board, serving to regulate women's sports, setting rules, scheduling games, made up of representatives from each group participating in sports, presided over by an elected Senior manager, helped by chosen sports managers working for their letter "S".

OUR ANNIVERSARY

... MISTY, YET EVER LINGERING
IN OUR MINDS ...

OUR MEMORIES...

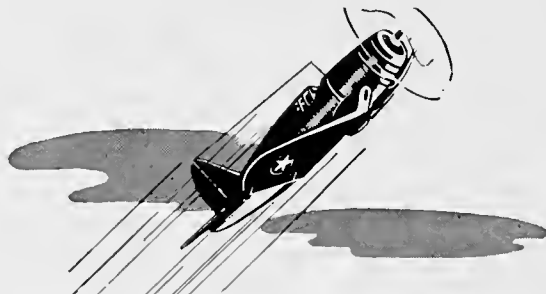

... a Chronolog, beginning when students first arrived on the train, following through Rat Week, rushing, the hurricane, Ministers' Week, the play, exams, the Christmas holidays, and continuing into the new year, with parties, Wednesday night dinners, Valentine's day, Work day, Founders' Week, graduation, and goodbyes.

... and then spot memories here and there, of campus personalities, campus activities.

... with the Best Buys, to be found at the stores of all our patrons who have supported us in this Anniversary Year, sixtieth of our college, twentieth of our president.

... and all thanks to our partners in putting out our annual: photographers, Joseph Breintenbach, New York, Prof. H. M. Berry, Pete Ogden, Jr., and Dick Pope of Cypress Gardens; engravers, Basil L. Smith System, Philadelphia; printers, Florida Grower Press, Tampa, with the advisory help of Mr. Paul Denman, who did more than he had to for us, in order to make our book a success.

... AND THE BEST Buys...

... That is welcome news to the aviator for it means clear vision ahead ... and time was when it applied to graduation days in a world in which one could plan for the future. • But today, the ceiling outlook is clouded. The world is groping its way as it seeks to find the path to peace and security. Mistakes of the past have brought the terrible tragedy of war today. • Men are fighting and dying the world over to preserve for you that which is worth saving in the old world in the hope that as you take your place by their side or in the vast army of workers behind the lines, you will somehow avoid the pitfalls of international distrust, of hate and greed which cause wars. It is their hope that you will fight through to build a new world of peace, of opportunity, of security • The burden is heavy, the responsibility great but there is no one else on whom it can fall, no one else who can clear the shadows from the world and bring again an era of "CEILING UNLIMITED".

TO THE CLASS OF 1945 OF FLORIDA SOUTHERN COLLEGE—

The makers of the famous "WATER BUFFALO" Amphibian Tanks, extend their congratulations for having completed your curricula successfully. You have done well and it is our wish that you will continue to do as well in the future.

We realize, as you must, that degrees and awards are not won easily. Constructive effort and the will to achieve a desired goal are essential to the successful completion of any enterprise.

Our immediate goal is to help win the war and to save the lives of fighting men in the Armed Forces, by producing more and more amphibian tanks. We consider this to be real and constructive effort, "four-starred" effort, in fact. The Army-Navy "E" award, given to us in July 1942, has been renewed four times since then, for high achievement in war production.

We trust that yours will be a successful and a "Four-starred" future of constructive effort.

Insure that future! Buy More War Savings Bonds!

Continuous improvements in yearbook design as well as in photo-engraving procedure are the primary considerations that influence your choice of engravers. Over a period of years, we have earned the distinction of being leaders in both design and procedure.

Our congratulations to your yearbook staff. It has been a genuine pleasure to cooperate with them in producing your class record book.

HERE'S A HELPING HAND

The only one of its kind—a "continuing" catalogue of over 150 modern and practical layouts plus helpful production information. Schools and colleges all over the country have found in this catalogue the EASY way to prepare their yearbooks and to execute the engraving part of the job.

Every yearbook staff needs one—reserve your copy of the NEW Fall edition now.
